Fatel Afray—shooting of W. H.

(special Dispatch to the Courier-Journal)

LEXISOTON, Kr., Jan. II.—Our city was the scene of much excitement this morales, occasioned by the shooting of W. H. Wootunas, one of our most industrious and quiet citizens, by Officer John Donnelan, the Deputy Marshal of the city. The particulars, so far as we are able to learn, are about as follows: Some evenings ago Mr. Wootunes was aronsed by the report of pistol-shots about his house, and supposing that the parties were shooting at his house, got his pistol and fired out of the window. A warrant was served upon Weolums, and this morning he was tried before the City Couriant these sections of the department of the court Woolums and Donnelan were walking up the street, when some words passed between them, resulting in the riving of the lie by Woolums was shot in the abdomen and mortaily woulded. At the examining trial held this evening, Donnelan was held to hall in the sum of $2,000 doilars, which belog promptly given, he was released to appear Thursday.

LATER—Woolums is not expected to live through the night.

We present elsewhere a report of the proceedsuch as they were, which transpired at the -house last evening. Two of our reporters Fere present under instructions to give a per-fectle full and fair account of whatever be said and done; but they will be very readily excused if their entrative lacks that order, method and detail which should characterize an entrail document. The fault is due not to a want of skill on their part, but to the meeting itself.

It was indeed without order, method or detail. ed in the interest of what is known as the "River Route," by a very numerous, respectable and induential body of citizens, its original purpose was somewhat diverted by the appearance of a number of persons representing what is gest, with very especial courtesy and respect, and without disturbance. They did not ack, we Lillak, in good taste, and, when they come to review the matter, we are inclined to think the will large eith us. But we wish to that they will agree with us. But we wish to making and not to awaken partisan feeling. This is matter of business, and not a matter of passible. It ought to be discursed and it ought to be rettled in a business-like way.
